

HOW TO REFUEL YOUR PASSION

2. RECALIBRATE YOUR MINDSET

We can retrain how we think which manifests itself in what we do. You can see the good and stay above the line as an educator.

- Grab ahold of gratitude - begin a daily gratitude list.
- Find your tribe.
- Realize all you do, just isn't about you.
- Most importantly, use wisely your power of choice. You get to, instead of have to.

1. RECONNECT WITH YOUR PURPOSE

Creating an impact, leaving a legacy, as an educator, begins with you. To be professionally developed, we must be personally developed first.

TO RECONNECT WITH YOUR PURPOSE...

- Write down your natural abilities and gifts.
- Write down the things that move you to emotions.
- Combine those to create your impact and unleash your purpose that's within you.

3. RELIVE YOUR STORY

Your story is your power. In sharing your story, your experiences, you become alive as an educator to your staff and students.

- Being vulnerable with your story makes you real and authentic which means more effective.
- Foster the relationships who relate to your story.
- Listen, encourage, and empower them to then share their story. The ripple effect.
